NEWMARKET, AURORA AND THE RURAL DISTRICTS OF NORTH YORK
NEWMARKET, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 30TH, 1947
MEMBER AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS SINGLE COPIES 5 CENTS EACH

1947 BIG YEAR FOR NEWMARKET DISTRICT

Nineteen forty-seven was a year of intense activity for Newmarket and Aurora. In the following review of events as taken from the files of The Era and Express, the highlights are recorded as they occurred.

JANUARY 3: The New Year was welcomed in by throngs of celebrants in Newmarket and surrounding districts as good use was made of every available night spot. Twenty-four hour shifts on a tractor were needed to clear the streets of snow in what Frank Bowser described as "a pretty tough assignment". Margaret Jean Davis, daughter of Mr. Andrew Davis and the late Mrs. Davis, was married to William Hugh Jay in Trinity United church December 28.

During 1946 there were 506 births in Newmarket and 62 deaths. Georgetown defeated Johnny Campbell's Hoffman Machinery club 3-2. Town clerk Wesley Brooks reported that at that time 95 percent of the 1946 taxes had been paid.

JANUARY 10: W. H. Eves, Dr. S. J. Boyd, J. O. Little, Fred A. Lundy, Dr. L. W. Dales and Dr. J. H. Wesley received pen and pencil sets from the town council at its inaugural meeting. Among them were four former mayors, two former wardens of York county and a former medical officer of health. The council passed a by-law to borrow $40,000 to meet expenses until taxes could be collected.

Mary Littlewood of the Sudan United Missions was completing her studies in Switzerland before going to Africa. Some old documents relating to Newmarket's history were found by Wesley Squires in a desk which he had purchased at the Roadhouse sale.

JANUARY 16: Funeral services were held by J. Harry Fee for many years a resident of Newmarket prior to World War I. William Ross Hill, whose father is county constable in Sutton, was sworn in as constable in the town of Newmarket. Rudy Renz was elected chairman of the public school board for 1947. Hoffman's won over Langstaff Combines in an 8-3 victory and the juniors took Markham 5-4.

Donald Brice was to represent Newmarket in the finals of the York county oratorical contest and in an inspector's report to the high school board were congratulations to the pupils for preparing a special issue of The Era and Express.

JANUARY 23: Sunday hockey practices in the arena were questioned at the council meeting. Discussion was deferred because of the coming elections for the recreation council. Chairmen of the committees on the council were called upon to outline their tentative plans for the year.

The Hoffman Machinery hockey club defeated Richmond Hill 7-3 and Newmarket Vets defeated Sutton Greenshirts 6-3 and the following night 4-2. The Office Specialty voted 241-50 to allow the Local 20, National Union of Furniture Workers, to act as bargaining agent in future negotiations with the company.

JANUARY 30: Newmarket and district was blanketed with snow and ice pellets as high winds and cold weather put an end to the spring-like weather that prevailed earlier in the week. Donald L. Brice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brice, a pupil at the King George school, won first prize in the York county oratorical contest. Reeve Charles Hooper, Markham twp., was the new warden of York county. J. B. Bass

Farmer's Revenue Low

A farmer friend of ours figures he receives a wage of 32 cents an hour for his work with his dairy herd. It isn't much for skilled labor by current standards, a fact our friend alludes to when the price of milk is mentioned. Last year, he figured he was paid 40 cents an hour but the price of feed grains has overtaken the increase in milk returns and the difference had to be taken out of his wage.

Our friend may be out a cent or two in his figuring but there is no questioning the fact that the farmer has a long way to go before he is paid for his labor on anything like the urban scale of wages. A total investment of something over $6 billion in manufacturing industries in Canada produces products with a net value of nearly $4 billion, according to figures quoted in an article elsewhere on this page. The investment in farms in Canada is $5,285 million but the cash return is only $1,800 million.

The provincial minister of agriculture, Hon. T. L. Kennedy, estimated recently that the farmer receives on the average 50 cents of the consumer's dollar. The other 50 cents is taken up by freight and storage charges, middlemen and distributors. Whether you take the minister's estimate, national statistics or our friend's estimate of his wage, it all boils down to an inadequate return on the labor and capital invested in agriculture.

That's the farmer's side of the story. The consumer's version is the opposite. Already he feels he is paying too much—for a commodity like milk he is paying too much. Food costs in Canada since 1938 have risen 171 percent. To make the farmer's return proportionate to his effort and investment, under present circumstances, would mean a rise in food costs far beyond the average consumer's reach. It would have the double effect of reducing markets and forcing wages and material costs higher with the increase being passed back to the farmer as has already been done in farm implements.

Various solutions to the problem suggest themselves. The resumption of subsidies on coarse grains is one. The need for a ceiling is obvious with oats and barley almost doubling their ceiling price since the ceilings were removed. The end of coarse grain subsidies was a most ill conceived act, striking as it does at the dairy and hog industries. A return to subsidies on basic foods such as milk is also essential if national health standards as well as the dairy industry are to be maintained. No one wants subsidies with their resulting intrusion by the government into commercial activities, but they are necessary if the farmer is going to receive a just return for his products without adding to the consumer's already onerous burden.

That much the government can do. The farmers, if they are in earnest, can do the rest. As long as they continue to accept 50 cents on the dollar for their produce, their economy will be out of joint. They have at hand, through the co-operatives and the marketing boards, the means by which they can assume greater control over the marketing of their product with a resulting increased return. If the United States farmer can collect 70 cents of the consumer's dollar, so can the Canadian farmer. Until they start working for it, however, the farmer is always going to be underpaid despite all the subsidies the federal government can afford.

HEARTLAND

By Joseph Lister Rutledge

Just about one in every four persons in Canada lives on a farm. That is a total of 3,152,449 persons, as the average farm home represents just about four and a third persons. So the number of farms runs to a total of 732,832.

Perhaps because a farm is a great place for kids or perhaps because they instinctively know that if you are to get anywhere in after life a farm background is a very handsome thing to have, kids tend to locate on farms. Just about one-third of all the children in Canada under 15 years of age live on farms.

Sometimes the cities tend to look down their noses at the farms, and point to their great industries with considerable pride. Just for the record then, these vast industries represent a total capital investment of six billion three hundred and seventeen million dollars. That's a lot of money but invested in farm lands, buildings, livestock and machines there are five billion, two hundred and eighty-five millions. On this basis manufacturing is somewhat more profitable than farming as the net value of manufactured products is a little over three billion, eight hundred million dollars, while the cash income from farms, even with the $65 million allowed under various government grants, was only one billion, eight hundred million dollars. Still it is a creditable record for the farm.

SPEAKING OF "WHEAT SPECULATORS"

Cat Nips

BY GINGER

Hey Golden Glow! I've gotta beef. Some dough head left my name out of The Era and Express front page greeting card last week. Now, I ask you is that playing the game?

In the first place I took a job here as night editor only, now I've gotta pound out this column every week. And that's not all. I'm shoved into this miserable job of public relations hostess in the business office and if that weren't enough, I've gotta exercise the mice down in the basement four or five hours every night.

What with all these routine chores to look after, it's me that has to keep up the spirit of the place. When a printer blows his top I have to go around and cheer him up. I even have to sit over a hot linotype to keep the operators from being bored. I am a busy cat. So what do they do? They leave my name off the front page. Rank injustice I call it. Those young snips in the editorial office are so wound up in their own affairs they just ignore the issue and it burns me to a crisp. How about it Mister Editor, do I rate around here or don't I?

"A cat may look at a king," said Alice. "I've read that in some book but I don't remember where."—Lewis Carroll.

If any of my readers are in the business office and see me asleep on the counter, don't take offense. Conspicuous though it may be, it's the only place to avoid the heavy tread of the printer's foot.

I'm darn sick of hearing this phrase "prosperous New Year." You'd believe that the only way anybody could be happy in the new year would be to increase his profits 25 percent over last year. You'd think there might be someone who would get a kick out of life without sticking his bank roll at the top of the list. Look at me. I get three squares a day and that's all, and I've got no kick.

I don't know a heck of a lot about economics but we can't all be millionaires. For me, I'll just leave it as a plain but sincere "Happy New Year," folks.

On Second Thought

By The Editor

New Year's resolution: I must not eat so much on Christmas Day. I must not eat so much on Christmas Day. I must not eat so much on Christmas Day.

One of the many pleasant aspects of Christmas is the number of greeting cards from friends of the paper. We received far too many for individual replies and hope that the senders will accept this blanket "Thank You" in lieu of a personal note. One card came from the former headmaster of Pickering College, Joseph McCulley, now deputy commissioner of penitentiaries.

Joe wrote his best wishes and added that he hoped he could use this column to reach his many friends in Newmarket with the season's greetings. There you are, Mr. McCulley.

Sometime ago, we published a cartoon by Howie Hunt showing husband and wife at the dinner table in a barren room with only an electric two-burner grill to cook with. Husband wants his dinner in a hurry. Wife wants to hear the radio, but there is only one wall plug to service the two gadgets. The caption reads: "If you are always in such a hurry for your supper (says the wife) why don't you get a double socket so I can cook supper and listen to my radio program at the same time."

The point of all this is that we have received a letter signed "A Doubtful Reader," which simply says: "Don't look now, but try and buy a double socket." Reminds us of the advertisement put out by a government agency during the war which had as its central figure a farmer milking a cow. It was a fine advertisement except that the farmer was milking from the wrong side. What a ribbing the weekly press gave that one.

Junior: "Are you my Grandmother?"

Grandma: "Yes, Junior, I'm your Grandmother on your father's side."

Junior: "Well, if you stay around here very long you'll find that you're on the wrong side."

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK!

By R. J. SCOTT,

Gleanings From Weekly Press

From here and there: An old-time two-cylinder 1909 Reo has been shipped to North Battleford, Sask., for the provincial museum. . . . 80 years of age, J. A. White still travels the west selling Bibles, as he did years ago with team and covered wagons. . . . on his 100th birthday, C. T. Daykin, Haney, B.C., received telegrams from the King and Queen and from Prime Minister King. . . . the annual ratepayers' meeting at Wetaskiwin, Alta., this year was streamlined with an added attraction being movies of city projects. . . . At Radville, Sask., there is no rivalry, where the Masons and Oddfellows got together to build a lodge hall, members working evenings to do the job mostly. . . . in rural municipality of Big Stick, Sask., in the vote for reeve there are 210 possible votes, and it ended up with Albert Jaster and Walter Melrose each getting 105—the winner was "pulled out of a hat".

The Vernon, B.C., News sympathizes with the plight of Canada's reserve army in a period of world unrest far greater than in the years preceding 1939, warns that: "Appeals for universal compulsory military training do not penetrate the fastnesses of government. Canada will be singularly fortunate, indeed, if, in the unlikely event of further world convulsions, we are again given three years to mobilize our strength."

The modern farmer is a chemist, veterinarian, electrician, agronomist, meteorologist rolled up in one, says the Rosetown, Sask., Eagle. "The sun and wind, rain and snow are his friends and enemies at the same time and he has to know how to utilize them to his advantage."

The Canadian Statesman of Bowmanville, Ont., says: "Unselfish service will benefit the giver. This is so true that it requires no qualifying comment. Have you tried it lately?"

The Vegreville Observer is somewhat pessimistic in an editorial on strikes, concludes: "Shorter hours, less work, more pay seems to be the universal motto these days. Everybody seems to be headed in the same direction and unless some different attitude towards work becomes evident in the near future, everybody is due to be in the inevitable collapse."

The Printed Word takes umbrage with the sometimes made statement that communists in Canada are often "well meaning". Says: If such a person is a Canadian before he is a communist, any he is not a communist. Any person who is a Canadian first may be well meaning even if the rest of us think him insane in his ideas. But no communist is a Canadian first.

When you see a town where the streets are kept clean and unsightly firetraps are forbidden, and every new home and business building is as modern and attractive as the owner could afford to make it, and home owners plant trees and flowers to beautify their yards, you know the people aren't wholly selfish. Shamaon Standard.

If we have intelligent leadership of government, co-operation between labor, management and primary producer, we can prove democracy is the most satisfactory form of government, says the Peace River Record-Gazette. A tall order, but possible.

Well, folks, we had just scraped together $70 to take care of our contribution to free medical service when we read about Premier Douglas, speaking at Kindersley, telling that his government would defy judges and "court or no court" would uphold their legislation in some way even if declared illegal. Atta boy, Douglas—we always did love a rebel; taking our lead from you we are going to hang on to that 70 bucks and challenge the Saskatchewan authorities, court or no court, to force payment. But will we? No, on reflection we will set our premier an example of good citizenship by complying with the law, even when it happens to be a law that doesn't meet with our approval. —from Maple Creek News.

MOUNT PLEASANT

Happy New Year to all. Christmas now over, everyone will be thinking up their New Year resolutions.

There were many family gatherings on Christmas Day and some had a real visit in person of Santa Claus on Christmas afternoon. When calling on the Traviss and Bosworth homes Santa said he didn't feel able to manage his reindeer so he travelled by automobile. Mount Pleasant monthly supper will be held on Wednesday, Jan. 7. Supper will be held from 6 to 8 p.m.

What does the word "Ontario" mean?

"Ontario" originally was the Iroquois word "kanadarie," which means "sparkling or blue water." It was used to describe the waters of the lake that is now known as Ontario.

Later, "kanadarie" was corrupted to "Ontario," and the white settlers gave the name to the land along the lake's shores for an ever-extending area.

Again we congratulate Mrs. Gould and her pupils of our public school for the splendid concert presented at the community hall on Friday evening, Dec. 19. Two impressive services were held in Wesley church on Sunday. The pastor, Rev. E. Moddle, gave the Christmas message in the morning. The church was effectively decorated with evergreens and small Christmas trees. There were rustic standards with rows of candles throughout. The Young People's Union conducted the candlelight service in the evening with the president, Arthur Starr, as leader. Both services were well attended and both choirs under the leadership of the organist, G. E. Richardson, were especially appreciated. Miss Marian van Nostrand of Sudbury is home for the Christmas vacation. Congratulations to Mrs. Cale whose grandson, Douglas Anglin, a student in political science and economics at the University of Toronto, has won a Rhodes scholarship which gives him two years at Oxford University. His ambition is to be a lecturer in international relations. He is the son of Dr. George C. Anglin and Mrs. Anglin of Toronto. Mrs. Anglin was Dr. Cale, a daughter of Mrs. Cale of Vaudreuil, and a sister of Mrs. McQuarrie and Mrs. Arthur van Nostrand. When interviewed, Mr. Anglin said he planned to use his scholarship to study philosophy, politics and economics in England next fall. Asked how he won the scholarship which demands besides success as a student, the qualities of leadership, courage and athletic prowess, he confided: "It was the surprise of my life and as a matter of fact, I'm not a very good student. And now that they'll expect me to pass, it's going to be difficult." He joined the navy as a probationary midshipman in 1942, at 18. Next year he went on active service and served on the minesweeper Vegreville during D-day operations off Normandy. He also served on the Rostern and the Haida. One of his disappointments was that he didn't get to naval service in the Pacific. "The war packed up just when we were ready to go," he said.

The Stokes family is spending Christmas with Mrs. W. D. Stokes. Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Draper are having their family all home for the Christmas season. W.I. Meets The December meeting of Mount Albert Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Rev. Sinclair with 30 members and four visitors present. Mrs. H. Brown read several letters of appreciation from shut-ins for parcels received. Mrs. G. Macpherson distributed Blue Cross hospitalization cards. Mrs. B. Sinclair read a letter from the Children's Aid in Toronto asking for assistance and the matter will be taken up at the next meeting. Mrs. Bain, district president, gave a short talk and all were pleased to welcome her. Mrs. Steeper gave a talk on the hand book. Jeannie Rolling and Muriel Walker played piano solos. Mrs. Arnot Harrison, delegate to the annual convention in the Royal York hotel, Toronto gave a report that was a pleasure to listen to. She told of Miss Lewis' trip to Amsterdam, showing dolls dressed in native Dutch costume and passing around snap shots taken on her trip. She also gave tips on what to do and what not to do at a public meeting, and told several humorous tales by John Fisher, radio commentator. Mrs. W. Cooper and Mrs. Oliver sang "Silent Night." After the meeting closed Mrs. B. Sinclair, Mrs. Bruce Rolling and Mrs. Vera Weller served a delicious lunch.

MOUNT ALBERT
An item last week in the report of the W.A. said that $2,500 was given to Dr. Geo. Burgess for the hospital at Queen Charlotte Islands. It should have been $25.
Mr. Ken Walker, who is attending Queen's University at Kingston, is home for the holidays.
Mr. and Mrs. Kurtz, Tommy and Gail, spent Christmas with relatives at Sudbury.
Miss Joan Mainprize is home from Whitby Ladies' College for the holiday season.
Miss Ann Carruthers, who is attending Toronto University, is at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Carruthers, for Christmas holidays.
Mr. John Ryndard, Cobourg, was in town on Saturday evening.
Mr. and Mrs. Clare Doidge and Mr. Bill Burgess, Toronto, spent Christmas at the parsonage with Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Burgess.
Mr. and Mrs. Doug. McIntyre, John and Andrea, spent Christmas with relatives in Welland.
All who attended the public school concert in the hall on December 19 are loud in their praise of the excellent concert they listened to. From the we tols to the senior pupils, everyone did his part. The singing of carols by the school choir is a great credit to their teacher of music. The teachers all are to be congratulated for the success in bringing to the public so much promising talent.
The Canadian Legion and L.O. Lodge were hosts to the children of the community on Saturday evening in the town hall when moving pictures were shown, carols were sung, and each one given a treat.
Large congregations came out to the Christmas services at the United church on Sunday. At the morning service Rev. W. H. Burgess gave descriptions of Christmas in other lands not so fortunate as our own, and a Christmas message from the text "He loved us and sent His Son." In the evening, a vesper carol service was held with the members of the C.G.I.T. taking part with a candle lighting service. Many carols were sung. Mrs. Harman told in a very descriptive manner the story of the first Christmas tree. In the afternoon at Sunday-school many beautiful carols were sung and Mrs. Harman gave the Christmas story of the Shepherds and Wisemen on the flankelgraph. The children of the Sunday-school were all given a treat. The church was beautifully decorated for all these services.
Christmas boxes and cards were sent to all sick and shut-ins by the Woman's Association and Women's Institute together. Lots of snow has made ideal Christmas weather, some of the roads have already had to be plowed out.

The Stokes family is spending Christmas with Mrs. W. D. Stokes. Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Draper are having their family all home for the Christmas season. W.I. Meets The December meeting of Mount Albert Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Rev. Sinclair with 30 members and four visitors present. Mrs. H. Brown read several letters of appreciation from shut-ins for parcels received. Mrs. G. Macpherson distributed Blue Cross hospitalization cards. Mrs. B. Sinclair read a letter from the Children's Aid in Toronto asking for assistance and the matter will be taken up at the next meeting. Mrs. Bain, district president, gave a short talk and all were pleased to welcome her. Mrs. Steeper gave a talk on the hand book. Jeannie Rolling and Muriel Walker played piano solos. Mrs. Arnot Harrison, delegate to the annual convention in the Royal York hotel, Toronto gave a report that was a pleasure to listen to. She told of Miss Lewis' trip to Amsterdam, showing dolls dressed in native Dutch costume and passing around snap shots taken on her trip. She also gave tips on what to do and what not to do at a public meeting, and told several humorous tales by John Fisher, radio commentator. Mrs. W. Cooper and Mrs. Oliver sang "Silent Night." After the meeting closed Mrs. B. Sinclair, Mrs. Bruce Rolling and Mrs. Vera Weller served a delicious lunch.

Mrs. Perry Fairbairn gave a very interesting demonstration of cushion making. Current events were given by Mrs. Erwin Winch.
Mrs. Harry Horner gave a thought provoking paper on Christmas. Mrs. Jacobs gave an interesting report of the Institute convention in the Royal York hotel.

POTTAGEVILLE
United Church Has Annual Concert
On Friday, Dec. 19, the annual Christmas concert was held in Pottageville United church Sunday-school. A large crowd was in attendance and all entered wholeheartedly into the festivities.
Every item on the program was well received by the audience, which responded with vigorous applause. The concert was opened by the Junior girls and boys singing carols, followed by an address of welcome by Rev. C. E. Cragg. During the program recitations were given by the following Sunday-School pupils, Barbara Burbridge, Ronny Hill, Barbara West, John and Ann Sheardown, Marion Dove and Ronny Bondham. This young boy also played two splendid solos on the guitar. Two sisters, Annie May and Dorothy Hutt sang a duet, and solos were sung by Bruce Elder, Jack Proctor, Shirley Swan and Mr. H. Stone. Miss Beatrice Proctor also sang two solos to piano accompaniment by Jack and George Stone. An interesting dialogue was presented by Billie and Charlie Swan. Accordion solos were played by Mr. George Francis, and accordion duets by Jack and George Stone, all of Toronto. These proved popular with the audience and all had to respond to repeated encores.
A solo by Eddie Clause, playing his own guitar accompaniment, was well done. In the second half of the program, a play entitled "Uncle Tom's Christmas" and written by Mr. Stone was presented. The actors taking part were Mr. Stone as Uncle Tom, Mr. G. West as Mephisto, Mr. B. Bowman as the sheriff, Miss Hilda West as Betty, and Barbara West and Jack Proctor as neighborhood children. The roles were well acted and the funny situations in the play caused much laughter.
During a lull in the program when the arrival of Santa Claus was delayed for a few moments, a comedy trio "sang" "My Gal Sal." The music was specially provided by a record back stage while the three comedians, Messrs. G. West, H. Stone and B. Bowman, silently mouthed the words of the song. After this Santa arrived and gifts were distributed. A very successful evening was closed by the singing of the National Anthem followed by the Benediction.
(Intended for last week)
The neighbors and friends wish to extend hearty congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Bowman on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary, Dec. 19. Mr. and Mrs. Bowman presented the United church with a beautiful leather-bound hymnary in remembrance of the many years that they have worshipped there. Rev. C. E. Cragg responded with a vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Bowman on behalf of himself and the congregation.
The United church held its Christmas service on Sunday with a fair attendance. Rev. C. E. Cragg took for his text "The great change by the birth of Christ." The choir sang two carols, "O Little Town of Bethlehem," and "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing." Two selections were played on the guitar by Ronald Bonham, "It Came Upon A Midnight Clear," and "Silent Night."
Mr. G. Hampson and Mr. Norman Hamilton spent a recent afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. L. Proctor.
We are glad to report the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Blackburn, Kettleby, is back home again after his two weeks' stay in the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto, following his operation. He is coming along nicely.
Mr. George Wilkes, Mr. W. West and Mrs. T. West, Toronto, spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George West.
Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mears, Weston, spent the weekend with Mrs. Mear's father, Mr. Robt.

LIBRARY CORNER
By CAROLINE E. ION
"Here Stays Good Yorkshire," by Will R. Bird, is another new arrival at the Newmarket public library. Published by the Ryerson Press, Toronto, it was one of the two books which merited the Ryerson Fiction Award for the 1945 all-Canada prize novels.
This novel is not written as authentic history, but when the reader has finished it he will carry with him a most vivid and unforgettable picture of the founding of Chignecto county in Nova Scotia. The setting in the middle 18th century around historic Anheist and Sackville by Yorkshiresmen forms the basis for one of the best romantic historical novels as yet written by a Canadian. A well sustained plot and excellent characterizations make this book most interesting reading. The members of the Crabtree family as well as the other principal characters are fascinatingly portrayed and will not soon be forgotten.

Juveniles, Midgets Open Season Against Woodbridge

By GEO. HASKETT, JR.

Hockey returned once again to the local scene last Tuesday evening with a big "super-special" double-header attraction. Jovial Charlie Rowntree lead the Woodbridge Midgets and Juveniles into town for a couple of exhibition fixtures. The home forces split the points, as Woodbridge came up with a 3-2 win over Dr. VanderVoort's "Legion" Midgets in a battling display. The shoe was on the other foot in the second half of the fun as Fred Hall's Juveniles walked under the wire with a 6-1 victory.

With any help from "Lady Luck" the Legionnaires could easily have earned a tie in the opening contest as the local mites held an edge in the final 20 minutes. They scored once, right-winger Doug Bunn firing the disc into the Woodbridge nets, but they couldn't quite click for the equalizer. It certainly wasn't for lack of fight—they had that in full measure.

Bill Smith started the scoring early in the opening chapter. The lead was short-lived, however as Wallace on the visitors' front line came up with a pair of scoring thrusts. Blackwell was the other successful sniper for the invaders.

The Legion crew looked good in their first test. They can develop under the watchful eye of Coach Larry Molyneux into a winning combination. The Legion tested out three net-minders, Howie Peterman, Jack Stickland and Teddy Taylor. It will be quite a chore to sort out this trio.

Molly came up with a couple of rushing and lashing defence operators in Jim Cane and "Hook" McHale. Ian Brown and Bob Groves made up the other defence duo. Up front three lines were up for inspection ranging in size from peewees to some husky hockey talent.

In fact Coach Molyneux had quite a full house under his wing. One of his smallest charges had considerable difficulty climbing over his mates to reach the ice. "It would have been easier for me to toss that one over the boards," said Molly.

JUVENILES HAVE POWER

HOUSE
Newmarket evened up the evening's show in the second half, Fred Hall leading his Lions Juveniles to a snappy 6-1 win over Woodbridge. The Lions were full value for their win. They grabbed off a 5-1 lead in the first, kept in there shooting in the second for their final tally. Woodbridge managed their lone marker in the first frame, for the record it was the first tally of the game, but that was all they got.

The front line of "Ortie" Thoms, Don Gibson and Don Duncan were the busy men of the score sheet. Gibson had two, Thoms and Duncan one each. In fact, "Red" Wilkins was the only one on the first string who failed to dent the twine. Grant Firth, who teamed up with Wilkins at the blue line, banged in a goal and was on the assisting end on another. Bill Kirbyson notched the other marker on a pass from Jim Rutledge.

Line-up: Newmarket Juveniles: goal, B. Hayes; defence, G. Firth, "Red" Wilkins; centre, L. Thoms; wings, D. Gibson, D. Duncan; alternates, J. Draper, J. Couch, H. Mason, J. Rutledge, W. Kirbyson, G. Zogolo, B. Stewart, J. Baldson.

Woodbridge: goal, Robson; defence, Boynton, Cruickshank; centre, Lovatt; wings, Ireland, Brown; alternates, Longhouse, Ross, Smithson, Wallace.

Newmarket "Midgets": goal, H. Peterman, J. Stickland, T. Taylor; defence, I. Brown, B. Groves; centre, B. Smith; wings, R. Coveney, D. Bunn; alternates, R. Bray, K. Burke, A. Martin, H. McHale, J. Cane, J. McDonald, W. Cane, B. Morton, W. Robinson.

Woodbridge "Midgets": goal, J. Robson; defence, W. Pinder, R. Newton; centre, S. Abel; wings, Mitchell and Longhouse; alternates, S. Evans, Blackwell, W. Robson, Gilbert. Referee: Harvey Gibney.

Hockey Briefs

By GEO. HASKETT, JR.

The opening junior hockey game of the season is slated for the local "diggins" Tuesday, Dec. 30, when Len Simmons will lead his highly-rated "Co-ops" into town to tackle Bob McGuire's "Gapco" sextet. Like most Newmarket-Aurora saw-offs this might develop into quite a grudge battle. Newmarket most certainly will present several new faces and Aurora, so the story goes, will have most of last year's crew on deck plus several new and promising additions to their roster. Couldn't think of a better New Year's present that our local laddies could give to McGuire, Campbell, Broughton and Company than a nice big victory.

So far as the Hoffman intermediates go, they will make their home debut, that is in the regular schedule at least, Thursday-Jan. 8. Orillia "Narvos" will provide the opposition. To say the least, Hoffman has a tough row to skate this winter. They are hooked up with Collingwood Intermediate "A"s, Barrie and Orillia Senior B's, Collingwood, by the way, recently took Markham "Millionaires" into camp in the Georgian Bay town in an exhibition contest by a 8-4 count. Orillia knocked off Whitby, which is in the same group as Markham, by a 7-3 margin at Orillia last week. So don't miss the fun and doings when Orillia hits town. Some good games are on tap. The Intermediate schedule appears elsewhere in this issue.

The announcement that Fred Hall and his Lion pals have been waiting for, in respect to their Juvenile entry, was made on Dec. 24. The locals, classed as Juvenile B, will battle it out with Aurora, Bradford, Keswick, and possibly Uxbridge. Likewise Dr. VanderVoort, Gord. Ough and their Midget "Legionnaires" are carded to see "fun and action" with Aurora, Bradford and Keswick, with Newmarket classed as Midget B and the others as Midget C. It certainly should give both clubs a nice compact group to test their strength.

Widows get straight $10 increase."

Tells Of Visiting Rome While Chaplain In Italy

The Newmarket subdivision of the Catholic Women's League of Canada met at the home of Mrs. Cassavoy, Gorham St., for its pre-Christmas meeting. After business was finished, the meeting was given over to the guest speaker, Rev. Father McGivern, S. J., who gave an account of his life as chaplain in the Canadian army overseas during the Italian campaign, of which the following is a condensed report.

The Canadian troops had been taken out of action, just outside the city of Rome, and Father McGivern wanted to get to Rome. The guards would not let them by until they had contacted the highest officers, but when they were once again inside the gates of Rome, they had no difficulty. On the first visit Father McGivern said he went to report to the vicar general of the Jesuit Order and on the second visit he went to the Vatican. This, said Father McGivern, was the greatest privilege of his life.

The assembly hall was packed but he was ushered to the front by Papal ushers and given a place at the side of the platform. Pope Pius XII spoke to the large assembly for about five minutes, then noticing that he was a chaplain, spoke to him, giving him special blessings for himself and for his mother. Many times he had also taken soldiers to see the Pope, the 1,000 which was expected to go in a body would always turn out to be three or four thousand. Two very special privileges of his visits to Rome were the great sights of St. Peter's itself which, he said, was magnificent. The church was so

On the first visit Father McGivern said he went to report to the vicar general of the Jesuit Order and on the second visit he went to the Vatican. This, said Father McGivern, was the greatest privilege of his life.

The assembly hall was packed but he was ushered to the front by Papal ushers and given a place at the side of the platform. Pope Pius XII spoke to the large assembly for about five minutes, then noticing that he was a chaplain, spoke to him, giving him special blessings for himself and for his mother. Many times he had also taken soldiers to see the Pope, the 1,000 which was expected to go in a body would always turn out to be three or four thousand. Two very special privileges of his visits to Rome were the great sights of St. Peter's itself which, he said, was magnificent. The church was so

RENDEZVOUS: NEW YEAR'S STORY

Laurette was dining alone in her apartment, while outside the tempo of a New Year's Eve celebration grew in intensity.

It was quiet, sitting there by candlelight, a beautiful moment to reflect back over the 12 months just ending—except that tonight was so crucial! Tonight the vigil would end, the problem would resolve itself. But which way?

It was a strange thing they had done. Just a year ago tonight, while all New York was going mad welcoming the New Year with raucous gaiety, they had been sitting in this very room—yes, Harry over there in the big arm chair and she, Laurette, in the very chair she occupied at this moment. "Laurette," he used to call her; not "Laurette," the name everyone else used, but "Laurette," the convenient abbreviation he had invented.

"I'm a failure, Laurette," he had said. "Five years on the same job with nothing to show save a thinning head of hair and an almost empty bank account."

Laurette remembered now how she had tried to comfort him, and then the bombshell. "No honey," he had said flatly. "It's no use. We can't be married, for I'd merely be fastening a millstone around your neck. I'm leaving—leaving you right now!"

She had cried, protested, and then he had agreed to make a game of it. His parting words, still vivid, were:

"If you'll wait a year, Laurette, dear—a year from tonight. If I've succeeded, if I've made something of myself by then, I'll be back. A year from tonight. If not, well, probably you'll never see me again."

She still remembered the firm set of his shoulders as he walked out the door that night, bound he knew not where.

She remembered the questions their friends had asked. Where was Harry? Away on a long trip she had replied, at first. Then she had refused to offer excuses, and of course the friends stopped asking questions.

Only once had there been word of him, and then only very indefinite news.

"I saw him getting into a cab on Market Street," Bill Collins had told her upon returning from a trip to San Francisco. "At least I think it was Harry. Saw him only an instant, though, and I couldn't be sure!"

So tonight she was waiting. Only God and she and Harry knew how important was this New Year's Eve. Bill Collins had asked her out for the evening but she said, no, she wasn't feeling well and would stay home. Then he asked if he might drop around to her apartment and she begged off. Bill had given her a puzzled look, but only God and she and Harry knew...

Laurette washed the dinner dishes, brushed her hair and straightened up the living room, because Harry used to enjoy sitting in front of the hearth with his pipe.

At 11 o'clock there was a knock at the door, and Laurette's heart jumped. But it was only the lady next door, pausing long enough to extend the inevitable "Happy New Year!"

"What's happy about it?" Laurette wanted to ask her.

She picked up a book and tried to read, but it was no use. Midnight came, and outside the noise reached a mighty crescendo. At that moment Laurette suddenly realized that Harry had failed her; New Year's Eve was over, and he hadn't kept the rendezvous.

Then the telephone jangled and Laurette leaped to answer. "San Francisco calling Miss Windsor," said the operator. Then a long silence, while Laurette held her breath. "Hladn't Bill thought he'd seen Harry in San Francisco?" Finally the operator came back: "I'm sorry"

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

A GLANCE BACKWARD

As the year draws to a close I suppose that most of us do a little bookkeeping for the company of heart and soul that uses our bodies for its place of operation. Not many of us have as many assets as we could wish; too many of us have more liabilities than we care to contemplate. Never in all our lives have we had such opportunities to help our fellow men, but if we are ever inclined to look with pride on anything we, personally, or we as members of organizations, may have done, we are humbled to the dust when we hear of the tragedy of need, of suffering, and of hate that exists to either mock our feeble efforts or incite us to deeds more fitted to the needs.

We cannot lay ignorance like a flattering unction to our souls. We are beset by radio, by the papers and by our own hearts with facts and figures that do not leave much to the imagination, but the fact is, that we, who sit down to tables that lack no good thing, who sleep undisturbed by the threat of violence, and who wake without the knell of fear sounding in our ears, have still far to go on the road to realization.

But not being a pessimist, I see some assets—good ones, personal and community, and national. I think we are learning that to be a citizen of Canada is a proud title and that it will take some living up to. Can we feel—each one of us—that wherever we go those with whom we come in contact will be glad to know Canada better; are we sure that those coming into our community will say "If all Canada is like this, I'd like to live in Canada." Or can we as a nation, rejoice in the facts of our liberty, our liberalism, and our leadership in reform. If we can say "yes" to all these things, we have some of the most valuable assets for living—personal, community, national and international.

There was a time when our little circle of home was a barrier shutting out the world—and we hoped—the flesh and the devil. Now, into our home life, our education, comes the whole wide world. Our children are taught to think of the sad and needy children of other lands—not only to think—but to do something about it. Into our community life, into the community clubs, the Women's Institutes, into whatever organization you belong to, there comes "the cry of little children, the moan of the poor and sad," and we quilt and sew and pack and give because we have learned that "inasmuch" does not apply only to the needs of those we see with our own eyes, but just as truly to those whom we see through the eyes of others.

There is another asset we Canadians have which is building up

Miss Windsor, but our lines have apparently gone out somewhere. I'll have to call you back."

Then Laurette had an idea. "Operator," she asked, "was that call addressed just to Miss Windsor? Wasn't there a first name?"

"Why, I guess so," came the reply. "Yes, here it is—Miss Laurie, Leau-ric Windsor."

"That's you, isn't it?"

"I'll say it is!" Laurette shouted gleefully. "But only one person in the world ever called me that!"

The Homemakers

The season of family gatherings and hospitality is now in full swing and a feeling of good cheer is everywhere. Especially in the kitchen is this evident. At no other season is the homemaker more generous with her time and effort in making each dinner a gay occasion.

Here are three recipes that will make the leftovers of Mr. Turkey a welcome addition to any menu. The Turkey Corn Scallop uses only two cups of cooked poultry and yields a 1 1/2 quart hot casserole supper dish.

BOILED FOR THE SAKE OF SCIENCE

Using themselves as guinea pigs, six scientists at the university of California at Los Angeles have cooped themselves up in a sealed room considerably hotter than boiling water, to prove that pilots would be able to stand the intense heat generated by friction when airplanes hit 1,600 miles per hour. They proved that the human body can stand temperatures up to 250 degrees Fahrenheit, which is 30 degrees above the boiling point of water. For periods of 14 and a half minutes the scientists, headed by Dr. Craig Taylor, took turns in the chamber. One of the student volunteers, Si Friedlander, is pictured being removed from the heat chamber after he was subjected to the test.

A man bought several hundred very expensive cigars and had them insured against fire. After he had smoked them all, he put in a claim that they were destroyed by fire. The insurance company refused to pay and the man sued. The judge decided that as the company agreed to insure the cigars against fire it was financially responsible.
As soon as the man accepted the money, the insurance company had him arrested on a charge of arson.

Young Hopefuls

By Dorothy Muir Bowman

Suzanne, 19, has been conjuring a romance in her mind and pining for the loved who deserted her with promises to return some day.
Suzanne isn't the frivolous, giddy type but takes life quite seriously. Never-the-less, when she met this one and only she was swept completely off her feet by the attentions he bestowed upon her. To a young girl accustomed to the company of friends her own age, this older man had charm and polish—knew just the right thing to say and how to say it. However, their short acquaintance was suddenly terminated by his move hundreds of miles away.
After two weeks of pining for him, Suzanne's mother had a lengthy conversation with her on the subject. It seems that the whole affair might be summed up; a wealthy gentleman of breeding and culture, in a strange city, meets a young, attractive debutante familiar with the best places in said city and simply showers attentions upon her as a means of introductions into the best places. The whole arrangement might have been perfectly harmless but—Suzanne fell in love and obviously her suave escort didn't share her state of oblivion.
No Return Call
After he stopped dating her, Suzanne phoned the number he had given her and left her number. There was no return call.
Suzanne felt that after knowing him, she couldn't return to the society of her immature friends. She preferred to act the martyr and was paying her way for a life of solitary loneliness—pining for a lover who would never return.
For weeks Suzanne talked only of him. The family tired of the same diet but was very much concerned because Suzanne's appetite had lagged to the extent that her daily consumption of food didn't exceed that of the average canary and her swollen eyes and daytime fatigue indicated a cruel case of insomnia.
Suzanne's mother tried to explain that it was unreasonable to expect her love to be reciprocated by someone who had read and travelled so extensively, had had so many unusual experiences and who entertained such advanced ideas on such a variety of subjects. Then her mother suggested that she improve herself and acquire knowledge that would warrant the respect of a man of his calibre.
Suzanne is now becoming absorbed in a variety of subjects—history, geography and science are beginning to live in her thoughts. The opera and the drama worlds are now consuming her attention from an academic standpoint.
It would have been wasted effort to have tried to persuade Suzanne to forget him and return to her former circle of friends. Of her own volition, she may do exactly that—but in the interim she is acquiring knowledge and accepting new interests which is definitely healthier than pining for a lost love.
Newmarket — Miss Francis Brown celebrated her 85th birthday on December 14. She has been confined to bed for the past two years due to a broken hip but otherwise is enjoying good health. Her cheerfulness and happy disposition has endeared Miss Brown to her many friends. On her birthday they all joined in helping make it a merry celebration.

DOWN THE CENTRE

1947 KALEIDOSCOPE
By AB HULSE
Who's that knocking at my door? Well, my little chums, it's not Barnacle Bill the sailor, but the new White Hope, Kid 1948. Before you say open the door, Richard, let's pause a minute or two to take stock of what that now grey-headed gent, old man 1947, brought us along the sports front. Here are the highlights as we saw them this year:
Hockey: Newmarket learns the hard way that the town isn't big enough to supply two winning intermediate hockey clubs. Newmarket Vets stepped up from mercantile to O.H.A. and finished second to Markham Millionaires. The Vets enjoyed a fair season financially and the three M's (May, McDonald and Molyneux), had oodles of fun, at least until that series with Hoffman's. The machinery men, winners of the district mercantile loop which enjoyed a poor season at the turnstiles, made a great showing in exhibition games but fell to the Markies in the O.H.A. playdowns. Messrs. Campbell, McCabe and Haskett were not downhearted, however. This year with an amalgamated entry they declare "it's a new deal". Markham, with the sweetest intermediate team ever seen in the district, swept to triumph after triumph, including a record 29-0 win over the R.C.A.F. In the finals they were outlucked by Grimsby. George Scott of the Markham defence, sustained the most serious injury of the year—a broken back—but came back to finish the season. Bob Bangay was top scorer of the loop and the team.
Victoria Square earned district junior honors by taking Aurora Lions in the group finals and just about took all, losing out to Goderich in a hectic series. Minor hockey produced the following district winners: juvenile, Richmond Hill; midget B, Newmarket Legion; midget C, Keswick; bantam, Sutton. The Newmarket kids went the farthest and lost out to Collingwood in a surprise series. Keswick, after begin eliminated, came back off the ropes to defeat Bradford after Richmond Hill went out via the protest route.
Aurora imports, featuring Ballantrae-Stouffville players, took Zephyr Blues for the bush league crown at Uxbridge. Humber Summit brought the only championship to North York, taking the O.R.H.A. intermediate A series with Son Rowntree leading the way. Junior all-stars who played in the big series at Maple Leaf Gardens were: Bill Mundell, Aurora; Bill Boychoff, Bradford; Harry Caradonna, Newmarket; Howard Forgie, Markham; and Polly Minton, Victoria Square. All did well. Bill Mundell and Forgie later were picked for hockey duty in Scotland and are doing right well in the land of the heather. Dit Clapper, Newmarket-born, Aurora-raised and for years a headliner with Boston, was elected to hockey's hall of fame. Herb Cain slipped down the ladder from Boston to Hershey but was still going strong. Scotty Mair and Billy Wilson enjoyed good years with Tulsa, Mair had 54 scoring points and won himself a bride. Wilson was sidelined with injuries but had 40 points. Joint McComb was traded by Providence to St. Louis for alleged insurrection. Right now he's flying mighty fast and scoring with regularity.
Nick Bangay jumped the amateur ranks last fall to join Philadelphia Eagles. Don Wilson left the playing ranks to manage and co-coach Toronto Marlies. They're at the top of the O.H.A. senior ranks. Bill Thoms coached Marlboros juniors last year as well as refereeing with success. This year he returned as a player with Mahers and perhaps Hoffman's. Leon Smith and Ellis Pringle, the Sutton vets, have finally hung up their skates after good years in '47. Joe Tunney, who made a great showing in goal for Toronto R.C.A.F. last winter, made the Olympic team. Artificial ice shelved at Newmarket, Markham and Aurora. Aurora Flyers replace Aurora Lions in junior and under new residence rules absorb Bradford players. Jimmy Atkinson, burly Aurora defence player in dispute between the Square and Aurora. All junior teams strengthened and loop looks strongest in years. Toronto Leafs pulled surprise win to take Stanley Cup and seem due to repeat next year on present form. Private enterprise takes over rinks at Aurora and Newmarket and produces ice earlier than in many moons.
Baseball: Plenty of action on all fronts. Feudin' and fussin' between Yorky Smith and George Haskett resumed for '48. Smith gets last laugh as Stouffville takes junior honors. Bowman-ville drops the Smith clan in first round. Porky Schell, at end of season, best young pitcher in loop. Lefty Andrews hurls superb ball for Aurora all year. Simmons boys bow out to Milton in second round juvenile playdowns and Milton team goes on to win championship. Doug James leads Markham to a midget championship but loses out to Collingwood which took Ontario honors. Bob Ringwood hurls sensational ball all year. Markham also took on the bantam series and for a first year team, were plenty good. Loring Doolittle attended Maple Leafs junior school and "Ozark Ike" made the all-star team with his hustle and all-round ability. Hal Leary and Dick Pearson bring baseball back to Sutton and are prepared to give them all a battle in '48. Lou O'Neil, Charlie Case and Bob Bell provide fine umpiring, only to see outsiders take over in the pay-off spots. Intermediate baseball rumored for next season.
Softball: Newmarket ladies reach provincial B finals and lose out to Sarnia after downing Midland, Cobourg and Port Credit. Tiny MacInnis provides greatest thrill of season as she bops out a homer in the Port with two on board to come from behind. Chuck VanZant has his eyes trained on a silver mug next year. Aurora, Stouffville, Richmond Hill, all had their moments. Bruce Winterstein fielded the youngest girls' team ever assembled in North York. Stouffville looks to future. Schomberg ladies reach finals of O.R.S.A. series and over the year were mostly winners. Marj McCannan jumped from Sunnyside to the Danforth and flew to Texas for the All-American series.
Thrills a million as Vets and Langstaff go seven games in the North Yonge finals and Vets come from behind to win. Joint McComb pitches great ball in play-offs, hurling a no-hitter against Aurora. Best all-round player in circuit. Fred Morris' Langstaff team backed by great pitching by Billy Bowen and superb catching by Army Armstrong just about pulled the surprise of the year. Charlie Ryan finally takes veteran players to the plate too often, the Hill need youthful players. Aurora play in-and-out ball, taking the Legion tournament against tough opposition. Andy O'Neil pitches sweet ball, but has erratic support. Schomberg was rural group but loses out in the first round, much to their delight. Mount Albert, with Red Mitchell tossing the big apple with aplomb, takes Lake Simcoe honors. All North York series advocated on all fronts for '48. New Toronto shellacs the Vets, Cooksville pastes the Hill in expensive, non-productive O.S.A. tilts. Wes Niles pitches for Toronto Scottish in Garrison indoor league. Alex Webster returns to the wars with Thistlethorn. Ang West leads Newmarket industrial loop to fine season with Hoffman's atop. Harry Couse pitches Cookstown to South Simcoe championship. Bob Moody, Schomberg, elected vice president O.R.S.A. Hal Rogers and Doug May do a grade A job as league officials. Joe Spilletto breaks attendance records to be present to hand out trophy.
Pot-pourri: Maple Buds take Jack Smith senior B lacrosse trophy for second straight year. Wood ridge wins midget boxla honors. Ingewood takes district O.L.A. honors. Charlie Rowntree heads district lacrosse circuits. Aurora Legion, captained by Claude White, wins zone cribbage honors. Larry Molyneux repeats golf championship at Aurora. Herb Cain, Mrs. Elsie Schmidt win feature events at Colin Nisbet's classy nine-hole. Oakville takes Walker Cup. Free Sunday skating attracts big crowds and much comment pro and con, but mostly favorable at Aurora. Newmarket High takes Eckhardt trophy in revival of inter-school track meet. Ken Ball, Newmarket, Jolyne Doolittle, Gerry Simmons and Edna Pringle, Aurora, win individual award. Young Simmons cracks long-standing record with sensational heave. Keith Kyle, first winner of Gar Doolittle Memorial Trophy at Aurora high for all-round ability. Competition keen. Aurora Cycling Club regains annual Thanksgiving Road Race. Jack Offord and his mates again produce a "featcha attraction". Cliff Chapman wins club honors with Bob Benville as runner-up. Newmarket Legion stages Dominion Wheel championships at Newmarket and has merit marks to their credit for grand show. Earl McCready makes trip to New Zealand, before leaving stages big pro show in Aurora Armory for Board of Trade benefit fund. All services donated free. Bill Hatfield teaches 60 kids to box with Aurora Legion backing. Two smart shows staged. Jim Krochter and Turk Ferguson, chief aides. Pickering College takes Prep School senior basketball crown. Wes Lockhart takes three of four '46 cage championships go west. Richmond Hill takes senior boys, Newmarket seniors for girls. Aurora wins both boys' and girls' junior honors. J. C. Gregoire makes hit as new coach. Outside basketball organized, as per Cousins Cagers, Pickering Masters, Newmarket Grads. Future looks good. Woodbridge-born Elizabeth Graham Arden wins Kentucky Derby as Jet Pilot surprises. Watch Wreck, owned by Earl Rowe, suffers leg injury and loses Plate. John Stuart nominated Dark Colores for '48 Plate. Norm Heise, though proven innocent in the mystery mix-up of track year over Willagitt and Fifty-seven, draws suspension, back next year in usual enthusiastic effort. Charlie Smith rides in States and now becomes a trainer.
